

0294.01.0242

The Archeological Excavations in Mount Gerizim South of Nablus 12 December 1994

A black-and-white photograph featuring the archeological excavations in Mount Gerizim south of Nablus, throughout several stages, these excavations have led to the discovery of the Vision Mary Church, and the Samaritan Temple and they were described as antiquities dating back to the Samaritan and Byzantine Era.

