

A group of young people are gathered in a gymnasium for a workshop or rehearsal. They are standing in a line, some holding large red paper fans. In the foreground, a shopping cart filled with colorful balloons (pink, yellow, green) is visible. The room has a wooden wall with many small knobs or handles. The floor is green and blue. There are various objects on the floor, including cardboard boxes and a large black structure. The people are dressed in casual clothing like t-shirts and shorts. The atmosphere appears to be creative and collaborative.
