A Group of Women Representing the Branches of the Arab Women's Union Society, the 1950s

Taken in the 1950s, this photograph shows a group of women representing the branches of the Arab Women's Union Society including Zalikha Shehabi, the founder and chairwoman of the Arab Women's Union Society in Jerusalem, (second from the right) and Andalib al-Umad, chairwoman of the Arab Women's Union Society in Nablus, (third from the left).